Ghana music is not the kind of business to rely on, as a matter of fact, in this life, in everything you do, you just have to make hay whilst the sun shines. The show-off and hyped-up lifestyle of musicians mostly don't let them save up for the future as they feel, there will always be hit songs and there will always be shows to play.

Most Ghanaian musicians who rose to fame can hardly make a living, when the shows stopped coming and the CD's stopped selling. Mostly it's bad management, overspending, , drugs, women and living the plush life is often the cause.

Let's take a look at some Ghanaian musicians who are currently broke now.
